

Repetitive dominant roof forms creates rythm

THE WOODLANDS

Water features (pools) replicate natural lake and extend the reach of the water up to the structures

Creation of two distinct parts within the composition due to characteristics of sites